A LEGO® BRICK MODEL OF

Finn the Human

A lanky, posable Finn with his backpack and his golden sword, in 121 pieces.

121 pieces · 45 steps · 10 sections

Unofficial fan-made building instructions

Not physically build-tested. Every part is a real LEGO element and the model was checked on a computer (connections, collisions, every step, balance), but nobody has built it with real bricks yet.

Before you start

An unofficial fan-made manual

This booklet is not a LEGO product. It was generated from the model file by a computer program and checked part by part.

Not physically build-tested

The model and these steps were checked on a computer only: every part/colour is a real LEGO element, all 319 connections between parts were matched in 3D, no two parts overlap, every part can be pushed into place in its step, and the model's balance was estimated. Not tested: how firmly parts hold, part tolerances and how it copes with handling. Take your time and support the model while you work.

The finished model

About 11.3 × 3.8 cm and 19.4 cm tall, about 92 g (estimated).

Finn goes together in sections that you build apart and then join. Start with his hips and shirt, which hold a pin for each leg and each arm. Build the two legs from the shoe up, then the two arms, the backpack, the head with its sideways face, and the sword. Push the legs and arms onto their pins, press the backpack onto his back and the head onto the turntable, and clip the sword into his right hand.

You will need

- The 121 pieces in 12 colours listed at the back, with their LEGO element IDs and BrickLink numbers.
- A brick separator for pieces that sit too deep for a finger.

Tips

- Sort the pieces by colour before you start.
- Build the sections in order: each sub-assembly is finished before it is used.
- New pieces in a step have a yellow outline; earlier pieces are drawn paler.
- His hips and shoulders turn on Technic pins, his elbows on a clip, his forearms on the stud above the elbow, and his head on a turntable. Pose him with his weight over his shoes: he is tall, and his head is the heaviest part of him.
- Two bars run down the inside of each leg, through the holes in the round bricks. Push them all the way down before the shorts go on.

The 12 colours

 Light Nougat: 34	 Lime: 2
 White: 29	 Yellow: 2
 Black: 20	 Light Bluish Gray: 1
 Blue: 12	 Dark Red: 1
 Medium Azure: 11	 Pearl Gold: 1
 Green: 7	 Red: 1

How to read the steps

Parts and step number

The parts for the step and how many of each, then the step number. The parts of a step are drawn at one scale, so a longer one looks longer; a tile or a long plate also has its size in studs under it.

New parts

The parts added in a step have a yellow outline and are drawn in full colour; the parts from earlier steps are drawn paler.

Sub-assemblies

A yellow-framed picture means: put in the sub-assembly you built in its own section. "Build 4x" means you need four of them.

Sections

Each section starts with its name at the top of the page. Sections are built in the order they appear.

Insert direction

Some parts slide in sideways (axles through bearings, gears onto axles). The picture shows where they end up; push them in along their axle.

Not yet built with real bricks

These checks catch most mistakes a designer can make, but not all: clutch power, part tolerances, how stiff a long axle is and how the model survives handling can only be judged with real bricks. If you build it, we would love to hear how it went.
